Brothers and Sisters,

Each year, September 30 marks the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation.

The provincial government and I.B.E.W. Local 2067 recognize Truth and Reconciliation Day as an important day of remembrance and reflection for those who have suffered harm and to honor those whose lives were lost at residential schools.

The day honors the children who never returned home and Survivors of residential schools, as well as their families and communities. Public commemoration of the tragic and painful history and ongoing impacts of residential schools is a vital component of the reconciliation process.

Orange Shirt Day is an Indigenous-led grassroots commemorative day intended to raise awareness of the individual, family and community inter-generational impacts of residential schools, and to promote the concept of “Every Child Matters”. The orange shirt is a symbol of the stripping away of culture, freedom and self-esteem experienced by Indigenous children over generations.

May we all join in solidarity, human kindness and compassion.
